

Dear Participant:

You are receiving the attached notification based upon Department of Labor (DOL) regulations passed in 2010. Those DOL regulations, referred to by the DOL as 404(a), require plan sponsors of ERISA plans that are participant-directed to make specific disclosures about plan fees and investments to participants, beneficiaries, and employees eligible but not yet participating in their retirement plan.

No action is required on your part – this document is being sent to you for informational purposes only. You will receive an updated document on an annual basis.

To assist you with understanding the disclosure document, a reference guide titled: 'Understanding Retirement Plan Fees and Services' is available at the following address: www.prudential.com/404auserguide.

Please refer to Part II of the attached document for information on who to call with questions.

Deferred Salary Plan of the Electrical Industry
PLAN 300510 ("Plan")
OVERVIEW OF PLAN INVESTMENT OPTIONS AND FEES
AS OF: September 30, 2020

As a participant in the Plan, you have the right to choose how your contributions will be invested. This overview of investment options is an important starting point for helping you decide which plan investments might be best for you. This document is for informational purposes only; no action is necessary.

Getting Started

As you make your investment choices, you should think about how much money you'll need after retirement, your long-term investment goals, and how comfortable you are with risk. All investments have some level of risk and your account balance will increase and decrease as market conditions change. For these reasons, you should consider the benefits of a well-balanced and diversified portfolio.

This document enables you to compare investment performance and investment-related expenses and fees for each of the Plan's investment options. You can access additional information about each investment option, including the most recent performance information, and a glossary of investment-related terms as follows:

If you have a Prudential account, log into www.jib.retirepru.com

If you do not have an account, see www.prudential.com/planinfo

What you should know about investment performance

Investment performance is the investment's return after expenses are deducted. This overview shows the average yearly total return for each investment over the past 1, 5, and 10 years, or since the beginning of the investment. For each investment with a variable return, the overview also provides a benchmark which enables you to compare the performance of the investment with a broad based securities market index. Broad based securities market indices may not always correlate well to an individual option. For example, an employer stock investment option is not diversified and is not managed to perform similarly to a benchmark, and therefore its performance should be expected to deviate from the benchmark performance. Performance for investment options that invest in a blend of both stocks and bonds (e.g. lifestyle funds or balanced funds) may also be expected to deviate from the benchmark performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance, but it may help you assess an investment's volatility over time.

What you should know about investment fees and expenses

As with any business, there are costs to manage investments. Investment options typically pay their operating expenses, including expenses for investment management and distribution fees, out of assets of the investment. To help you compare fees and expenses, the overview includes each investment's total annual operating expense expressed as a percentage of the investment's net assets, but also as a dollar cost for each $1,000 invested. Some investments have additional fees that may be charged directly to the investor, such as sales charges (load), purchase fees, redemption fees and exchange fees. These fees, if applicable, will be described in the column titled Additional Fees, Restrictions, and Notes.

The cumulative effect of investment fees and expenses can substantially reduce the return on investments and, therefore, your retirement savings. However, fees and expenses are only two of many factors to consider when deciding what investment is appropriate for you. For more information about the long-term effect of fees and expenses, visit the U.S. Department of Labor's Web site at <https://www.dol.gov/sites/dolgov/files/EBSA/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/publications/a-look-at-401k-plan-fees.pdf>

Restrictions on Frequent Trading

If you make excessive transfers into and out of (or out of and into) the same investment fund, your ability to make investment transfers involving those funds may be restricted. "Excessive trading" is:

- One or more round-trip trades (transfers "into and out of" or "out of and into" the same fund) within a 30-day period where each buy or sell in the transaction is more than $25,000; and
- The trading pattern did not result from automatic or system-driven transactions such as payroll contributions or loan repayments, re-mapping transactions, hardship withdrawals, regularly scheduled or periodic distributions, or periodic rebalancing through a systematic rebalancing program that is not initiated by the Plan.

Certain investment options may not be subject to these restrictions. Funds may also have their own market timing policy, and Prudential Retirement will take action, as directed by the investment provider, to enforce that provider's rule or policy.

To obtain a copy of the complete Market Timing Policy, please contact Prudential at the number reflected in Part III of this document.

Redemption Fees

An underlying mutual fund or a Sub-account may apply a redemption fee or other fee for certain investment transfers.

Directing Your Investments:

You may specify how your future contributions to the plan are directed or make changes to existing investments in your plan either online or by phone. The website address and phone number are provided in Part III of this document.
